IGNITE

Personality Development Workshop

The Department of Commerce organized "IGNITE," a Personality Development Workshop on 29th November 2023, for first and second-year B. Com students. The workshop started at 2:00 PM and was held at AVT Hall. The workshop was designed to enhance the personal and professional skills of the students, equipping them with the necessary tools to succeed in their academic and future careers. The program began with a warm welcome by A K Shanawas, Head of the Department of Commerce, who highlighted the importance of personality development in the holistic growth of students.

The technical session was led by Dr. Jouhar Munavvir T, an esteemed Assistant Professor from Farook Training College, Calicut. Dr. Munavvir T, known for his expertise in personality development, engaged the students with an interactive and insightful session. He covered various aspects of personal growth, including communication skills, self-confidence, and time management. The students actively participated in the activities and discussions, reflecting their eagerness to learn and grow. Dr. Munavvir T's dynamic presentation style and practical advice created a great impression on the students, motivating them to apply the learned skills in their daily lives.

The workshop concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Ms. Sahva Sakeena, a second-year B. Com Islamic Finance student. She expressed her gratitude to Dr. Munavvir T for his enlightening session and thanked the department for organizing such a beneficial event. Ms. Sakeena also appreciated the efforts of the faculty and students who contributed to the successful execution of the workshop. The "IGNITE" Personality Development Workshop was a resounding success, leaving the students inspired and better prepared for their personal and professional journeys. 67 students attended the workshop.

The session given for First year B Sc Microbiology students focused on soft skills related to communication. Communication skills include verbal communication, non-verbal communication, public speaking and active listening. Communicative soft skills are essential interpersonal skills that help people communicate effectively and empathetically in various settings. Communicative soft skills are essential for effective interaction and collaboration in daily life. These skills help in building relationships, resolving conflicts, enhancing teamwork and collaboration, expressing ideas and opinions clearly, making informed decisions, boosting confidence and reducing stress, adapting to change and building resilience, encouraging innovation and creativity.

The important aspects of communicative soft skill include active listening, empathy, non-verbal communication, clarity and conciseness, adaptability, emotional regulation, confidence and assertiveness, patience and respect and open-mindedness. Questioning and clarifying is also important as Asking thoughtful questions to ensure understanding or to guide conversations forward. Strong communication skills are essential for any job. Here clear verbal communication and written communication, emotional intelligence, public speaking and presentation skills Persuasion and Negotiation Skills play a crucial role.

To develop communication skills, there are several online platforms that offer structured courses, interactive exercises, and real-world practice opportunities. Coursera, LinkedIn learning, Master Class, edX, Skillshare, The Art of Charm are some of them. Each of these platforms has unique strengths, so choosing one may depend on whether you prefer structured courses, interactive exercises, or real-world practice settings.

The Department of Microbiology organized a comprehensive workshop on Basic Life Support (BLS) on 21/112023. The workshop aimed at imparting essential life-saving techniques, focusing on CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation), airway management, and other critical first aid protocols that could be life-saving in emergency situations. The workshop was conducted by Mr. Anas Thiruthiyad, and Mr.Siyad K.P certified trauma care trainers and expert in emergency medical services.

Objectives of the Workshop

1. To educate participants on the importance of Basic Life Support in saving lives during cardiac and respiratory emergencies.
2. To train attendees in the correct procedures for performing CPR, managing airways, and using automated external defibrillators (AEDs).

PRINCIPAL
SAFI INSTITUTE OF ADVANCED STUDY
Vazhayur East P.O, Malappuram Dist, -673 633

3. To familiarize participants with the role of BLS in reducing fatalities in emergencies until advanced medical help is available.
4. To provide hands-on training and practice in a safe and controlled environment.

The workshop started with a brief introduction by Mr. Anas Thiruthiyad, who emphasized the critical role of BLS in providing immediate assistance during emergencies, thereby increasing the chances of survival. He explained that early intervention using BLS techniques could help bridge the time until advanced medical treatment is available. A major focus was placed on Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), with Mr. Thiruthiyad demonstrating the correct techniques for chest compressions and rescue breaths. The participants were encouraged to practice on CPR mannequins under the supervision of the instructor. Mr. Thiruthiyad also demonstrated the proper use of Automated External Defibrillators (AEDs), which are crucial for treating sudden cardiac arrests. The session included role-playing scenarios where participants took turns performing BLS procedures in simulated emergency situations. This hands-on approach helped build confidence and ensured that participants were familiar with the steps to take during an emergency.

The Basic Life Support workshop organized by the Department of Microbiology proved to be an informative and practical learning experience. Under the guidance of Mr. Anas Thiruthiyad and Siyad, participants gained valuable knowledge and skills in life-saving techniques. The interactive nature of the workshop, coupled with hands-on practice, ensured that attendees walked away with the confidence to act in emergency situations. It is hoped that such workshops continue to be organized regularly to equip individuals with the necessary skills and knowledge to save lives in critical moments. The Department of Microbiology would like to extend its heartfelt thanks to Mr. Anas Thiruthiyad for his time, expertise, and commitment to the success of the workshop. We also appreciate the active participation of all attendees, and the logistical support from the organizing team which made the event successful.

Participant Feedback

The workshop was well-received by the participants, who appreciated the clear and concise delivery of information. The hands-on sessions were particularly useful in reinforcing the skills learned, with participants commenting on how valuable the real-life simulation scenarios were in understanding the application of BLS techniques. Several attendees mentioned that they felt more confident in their ability to perform CPR and use an AED in case of an emergency. Feedback forms highlighted the interactive nature of the session and the expertise of the resource person.

Technical Session on Basics of Numerical Skills

The Department of Commerce organized a technical session on "Basics of Numerical Skills" on Wednesday, 23rd August 2023, at 9. 30 AM. The session began with a warm welcome by Ms. Muneera DN, the Class Advisor for the 1st Year B. Com Islamic Finance. Following this, AK Shanawas, Head of the Department of Commerce, delivered an insightful address, highlighting the importance of numerical skills in the field of commerce and finance.

The key highlight of the event was the technical session led by Mr. Sirajudheen M, Assistant Professor in the Department of Commerce. Mr. Sirajudheen meticulously covered fundamental numerical skills essential for commerce students, including basic arithmetic, algebra, and statistical methods. He emphasized practical applications, ensuring the students could relate theoretical knowledge to real-world scenarios. His interactive approach, combining theoretical explanations with practical exercises, kept the audience engaged and facilitated a deeper understanding of the topics discussed.

The session concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Ms. Asiya Seba, a first-year B. Com Islamic Finance student. She expressed gratitude to the speaker, faculty, and attendees for making the event a success. The program was a resounding success, equipping students with valuable insights into the fundamentals of numerical skills. 43 students attended the session.
